ONE LINCOLN PARK

Building To New Heights

Infinity Describes the Pool and the View

One Lincoln Park will soon become Denver's most sought-after address. The 32-story structure will feature 15,000 square feet of retail space on the ground floor with two levels of underground customer parking, and 183 for-sale luxury residential units, ranging from one to three bedrooms. Add a 5,000-square-foot infinity pool deck, and luxury living rises to new heights.

INTRODUCTION
About This Directory

For your convenience, AIA Colorado's 2007-08 Firm Profile & Membership Directory divides member firms by chapter (Member Firm Profiles & Local Chapter Information), and then lists all professional affiliate companies and individual members in separate sections.

The Member Firm Profiles & Local Chapter Information section is a roster of architectural firms whose principal(s) and/or partners are full AIA members. The qualification for being included as a member firm in the 2007-08 Firm Profile & Membership Directory is that the principal of the firm, or one of the principal(s), is an AIA Colorado architect member (AIA). Firms included in this roster are not necessarily architecture firms. Licensed architects represented in this listing are designated by the AIA or FAIA designation after their names in the contact section. The Professional Affiliate Firms section highlights those members that are affiliated with the design and construction industry. Finally, the Individual Members section contains individual listings of all members, including architects, associate AIAs, professional affiliates, student affiliates and intern members.

All information in AIA Colorado's 2007-08 Firm Profile & Membership Directory has been provided by firm and professional affiliate members. This information was deemed accurate at the time of publication. However, if information is not accurate, members may contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266, ext. 13, or send an e-mail with changes to membership@aiacolorado.org. AIA Colorado may not be held responsible for any inaccuracies or omissions in the member listings.

AIA respects the privacy of its members. This directory includes firm and personal information as supplied by members. Individual listings do not include e-mail addresses. Please note that the contents of this publication may not be reproduced by any means, in whole or in part, without the prior written consent of the publisher. For information about purchasing a single-use mailing list of AIA Colorado members, please contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266, ext. 10. AIA Colorado does not sell or share e-mail address lists. Inclusion in this directory does not imply endorsement of any firm, service or product. The acceptance of advertising does not reflect endorsement of products or services by this publication or AIA Colorado.

The AIA Colorado 2006 Annual Report is available online at www.aiacolorado.org

For AIA Colorado and the four local chapters, 2006 was a year of reaching new heights—the successful development of two new e-publications, the receipt of an award for Architect Colorado, community involvement through AIA150 initiatives and greater financial stability than ever before. The organization continued to strengthen its relationships with local elected officials and state legislators as well as come together as advocates on important issues, such as sustainability and the architect licensing law.

advocacy

AIA Colorado West helped push eco-build resolutions through Eagle County government.

AIA Denver's Urban Design Committee created a 60-minute film documentary about transit-oriented development (TOD), influencing the civic dialogue in favor of high-quality development at the metropolitan area's new transit stations.

AIA Colorado South partnered with the Colorado Springs Downtown Partnership, the City of Colorado Springs Planning Department and the Imagine Downtown Streetscapes Committee to create a model to encourage the discussion of form-based code in order to revitalize and create a more livable downtown.

AIA Colorado's Government Affairs Committee set up a series of meetings with legislators around the state to educate them on the licensing law and other issues of importance to architects, which resulted in the successful passing of the Colorado architect licensing law in May.

AIA Colorado hosted a gubernatorial candidates forum with the Associated General Contractors and the American Council of Engineering Companies.

AIA Colorado's Government Affairs Committee members worked with ARCpac to continue to solicit donations and set a new record for contributions to key state legislative candidates.

community

The AIA Colorado South AIA150 Committee's Great Streets/Great Skyline initiative focused on a charrette involving local residents and business leaders in an effort to develop a consensus on the direction of future downtown development of Colorado Springs.

AIA Denver continued to enjoy close relationships with its local leaders and peer organizations in the construction community and is in a strong position to influence the community and the industry in positive ways.

AIA Colorado North's AIA150 Committee began an initiative to work with several small communities to identify key projects that will contribute to their continued success as the region grows. The committee also plans to establish the AIA150 Legacy Fund to support future projects in other northeast Colorado communities. This initiative is in collaboration with University of Colorado's College of Architecture and Planning (Boulder).

AIA Colorado West's AIA150 Committee began collaborating with the Rocky Mountain Institute about how to implement the 2030 Challenge in the Vail Valley.

AIA Colorado's Professional Development Committee established the Fellows Roundtable series to engage students, interns and young architects in active discussions about issues related to the profession.

AIA Colorado West provided an outreach opportunity for its membership through a community event sponsorship in Vail, where the chapter's design award winners were on display.

AIA Colorado continued to collaborate on educational programs and legislative initiatives with allied organizations, including Constructors Designers Alliance, Associated General Contractors, American Council of Engineering Companies, Society of Design Administrators, American Society of Landscape Architects, Design Build Institute of America, Urban Land Institute and others.

knowledge

The AIA Colorado South AIA150 Committee developed an informational video about its Great Streets/Great Skyline initiative, which has been used as a national model for the AIA150 Blueprint for America Project.

With respect to AIA Denver's annual theme of sustainable architecture, the chapter rejuvenated its Committee on the Environment (COTE). COTE grew from about five people to 75 and played an active role with the U.S. Green Building Council in hosting the 2006 GreenBuild conference.

AIA Colorado North's continuing education programs remained a primary focus of the chapter and were highlighted by a lecture with Architectural Record Editor Robert Ivy, FAIA, and continued successful 10x10 programs throughout the year.

AIA Colorado's 2006 Annual Design Conference focused on the theme of redevelopment (profession, practice and communities) and featured AIA 2006 Gold Medalist Antoine Predock, FAIA (New Mexico); Michel Rojkind (Mexico); Chad Oppenheim, AIA (Florida); and Ron Altoon, FAIA (California). Records were set for attendance, revenue and attendee satisfaction.

AIA Denver continued to collaborate with women in professions serving the built environment through the chapter's Women in Design committee.

AIA Colorado presented its first annual Practice Management Symposium, teaching practical skills about business development, human resources, project accounting, public speaking and design presentations.

value

AIA Colorado launched a new e-newsletter and e-postcard tool for up-to-date communication with members.

AIA Colorado's quarterly publication, Architect Colorado, received a first-place Maggie award from the Western Publications Association.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, awarded more than $47,000 in scholarships, grants and other awards to students, interns, architects, teachers and allied organizations.

AIA Colorado and the four local chapters remained financially healthy.

AIA Denver's Board of Directors adopted "sustainability" as its key focus for 2006. This topic governed much of the year's agenda and provided a new emphasis for the chapter's ongoing activities.

AIA Colorado developed a member service calling campaign to garner feedback about members' needs, values and involvement in the organization.

The American Institute of Architects is the voice of the architectural profession and the resource for its members in service to society.

Sonia Riggs
Executive Director
AIA Colorado

We are pleased to provide you with this year's edition of the AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory as part of your member benefits in AIA. This publication is a valuable resource to connect you with your fellow AIA Colorado members, AIA committees, staff and leadership. This directory, together with our Web site at www.aiacolorado.org, provides members with the current contacts to access the wealth of resources AIA Colorado has to offer.

The AIA Colorado office is located in the heart of downtown Denver at 1515 Arapahoe Street, Ste. 1-110, maintaining an important urban presence on behalf of our members. Our staff serves the membership and the public with diligence and professionalism, providing member services, contract documents, ARE study materials and a general reference library and maintenance of the always-important job board. The staff also works with members to coordinate our communication strategy, the government affairs agenda, the annual scholarship program and state and local chapter events, including the design awards galas and continuing-education classes.

One of the indirect benefits of being an active member of AIA is that of fellowship. Getting to know other members, sharing ideas, collaborating in projects and building genuine friendships that grow from communication with your peers can be as valuable as the more obvious, direct benefits AIA has to offer. It is important to stay connected to your profession, and we believe that this directory supports our members in that endeavor. It can be an integral tool in your efforts to be an engaged member of AIA Colorado.

This publication would not be possible without the strong support of the advertisers and sponsors represented in the Buyers' Guide. Their investment in our organization is important to our future success.

The American Institute of Architects Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct

Members of AIA are dedicated to the highest standards of professionalism, integrity and competence. The following principles are guidelines for the conduct of members in fulfilling those obligations.

Canon I - General Obligations
Members should maintain and advance their knowledge of the art and science of architecture, respect the body of architectural accomplishments, and contribute to its growth, thoughtfully consider the social and environmental impact of their professional activities, and exercise learned and uncompromised professional judgment.

Canon II - Obligations to the Public
Members should embrace the spirit and letter of the law governing their professional affairs and should promote and serve the public interest in their personal and professional activities.

Canon III - Obligations to the Client
Members should serve their clients competently and in a professional manner, and should exercise unprejudiced and unbiased judgment when performing all professional services.

Canon IV - Obligations to the Profession
Members should uphold the integrity and dignity of the profession.

Canon V - Obligations to Colleagues
Members should respect the rights and acknowledge the professional aspirations and contributions of their colleagues.

For the complete Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct, visit www.aia.org/SiteObjects/files/codeofethics.pdf

National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB)

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) was established in 1920 to help member boards:
• carry out their duties,
• foster the enactment of uniform architectural laws,
• develop examinations and establish standards for certification requirements in education and training,
• perfect their procedures for verifying the qualifications of applicants and determining their eligibility for certification, and
• establish and maintain reciprocal registration between states having registration laws.

NCARB is a non-profit corporation with all legally constituted boards of architecture in the United States as members, including the Colorado Board of Examiners of Architects.

To be eligible for NCARB certification, architects must submit satisfactory evidence that they comply with the standard for education, training, examination and character and have been registered by a member board.

NCARB will, upon request of an individual architect, secure, authenticate and record factual data of the applicant's education, training, practice and character. This record will be forwarded to any state board upon request of the applicant.

Certification shall be given to an applicant holding a council record verifying that the applicant has complied with the council's standards of education, training, practice and character; and that the applicant has passed an examination conforming to the council's standards of content, extent and length of time.

Certification by NCARB is recommendation to all registration authorities that registration be granted to the holder without further examination. Most board members accept NCARB certification as conclusive evidence of an architect's eligibility of registration. However, it is not a national registration.

Complete information on compiling a council record and obtaining council certification can be obtained from the Colorado State Board of Licensure for Architects, Professional Engineers & Professional Land Surveyors.

NCARB can be contacted at:

The Jason Pettigrew, Assoc. AIA, Memorial Leadership Scholarship

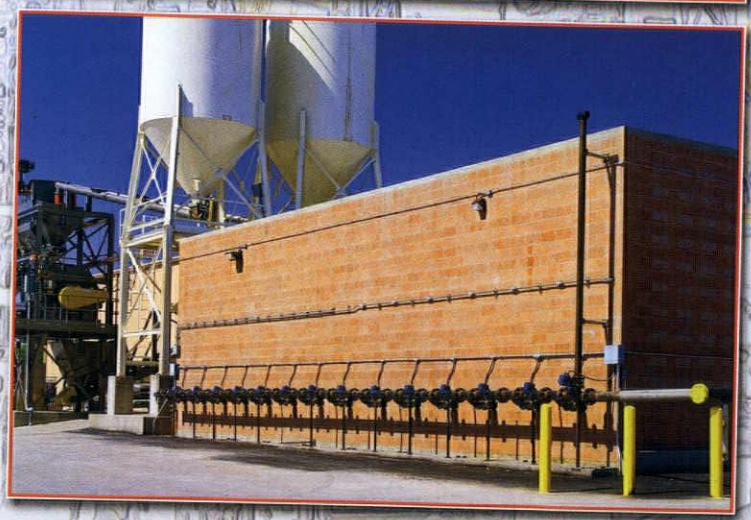

In 2004 AIA Western Mountain Region created the Jason Pettigrew, Assoc. AIA, Memorial Leadership Scholarship to honor an outstanding associate AIA member within the six states of AIA WMR with a scholarship to the annual AIA Grassroots Conference in Washington, D.C.

This scholarship honors emerging associate AIA leaders for strong leadership and a strong commitment to AIA now and in the future—qualities Pettigrew demonstrated. The scholarship sponsors an associate AIA member of the region to attend the annual AIA Grassroots Leadership Conference in Washington, D.C.

Information on nominations for the scholarship is announced each year on the AIA WMR Web site at www.aiawmr.org.

Architects of Colorado Political Action Committee

1515 Arapahoe St., Ste. 1-110; Denver, CO 80202; 303.446.2266 voice

What is a Political Action Committee?
A political action committee (PAC) is a non-profit, political organization specifically created to promote legislative interests and raise funds for that purpose.

The Architects of Colorado PAC (ARCpac) focuses on the interests of Colorado registered architects, whether AIA members or not. AIA dues are not a part of ARCpac, and membership in the PAC is completely voluntary and separate from AIA Colorado.

Why do Colorado Architects need a PAC?
A group of architects recognized that the architectural profession is significantly influenced by elected officials and the acts they take. Therefore, in order to have a more active role in the election process and raise funds for that purpose, a PAC is necessary. ARCpac provides additional opportunities to create relationships with state legislators. Also, ARCpac can donate money to candidates who fight for issues of importance to architects. Furthermore, ARCpac members may help with political campaigns.

Who can be a part of ARCpac?
All Colorado licensed architects may be a part of this organization upon contributing to ARCpac. Any individual, firm, company or partnership with a vested interest in the architectural profession can contribute to ARCpac. Contributions to ARCpac are limited to $500 per person or firm for each election cycle. ARCpac is a way for a firm to give to a cause, as firms are not able to give money to candidates.

How is a PAC effective?
ARCpac is effective with legislators and other elected officials because it represents the collective political arm of 6,000 Colorado architects and supporters acting as one influential voice.

Who decides how ARCpac distributes its money?
The executive committee of ARCpac makes decisions about who receives ARCpac money. Contributions received by ARCpac cannot be declared to any specific candidate. ARCpac distributes all of its money during election years to political candidates running for state office, regardless of party affiliation. ARCpac donates money to candidates who support issues of importance to architects, regardless of party affiliation.

What political issues are important to architects?
Recent issues of importance include the architect licensing law, scope-of-practice protection, sustainable design, school bond issues, Referendums C and D, indemnification, eminent domain and land use.

How Can I Contribute To ARCpac?
There are five ways your firm can help ARCpac:
1. Make a personal or corporate donation of up to $500 per election cycle.
2. Designate a firm member to solicit members of your firm to contribute to ARCpac.
3. Agree to host a fundraiser in your home for your state senator or representative.
4. Agree to attend a fundraiser organized by ARCpac.
5. Agree to work on your senator's/representative's re-election campaign.

What Do Architects Do?

You have a vision of what you want; now, you need to make that vision a reality. The following outlines how architects can assist you in that process.

Architects See the Big Picture
Architects are specially educated to assist you in defining what you want to build, present options you might never have considered and help you get the most for your valuable investment. They do not just design four walls and a roof, they create total environments, both interiors and exteriors, that are functional and exciting places in which to work and live.

Architects Solve Problems Creatively
Architects are trained problem solvers. Need more room for your growing family? Architects can show you how to enlarge your home so that you will not have to move. Have a limited budget? Architects also can propose ways to get more than you imagined possible for your investment.

Architects Help You Get the Most from Your Construction Dollar
Architects can reduce building costs, decrease your home's energy needs and increase its future resale value through good design.

Architects Make Your Life Easier
Building is a long process that can be messy and disruptive, particularly if you are living in the space while it is under construction. Your architect represents you, however, and looks out for your interests and smoothes the process, helps find qualified construction contractors and visits the worksite to help protect you against work that is not according to plan.

Speak with an architect who is a member of AIA at the earliest stage of the design process. Use the AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory to reach all of the AIA members located in Colorado. Another available resource is Find An Architect on www.aiacolorado.org, an online architectural database with the names of member firms.

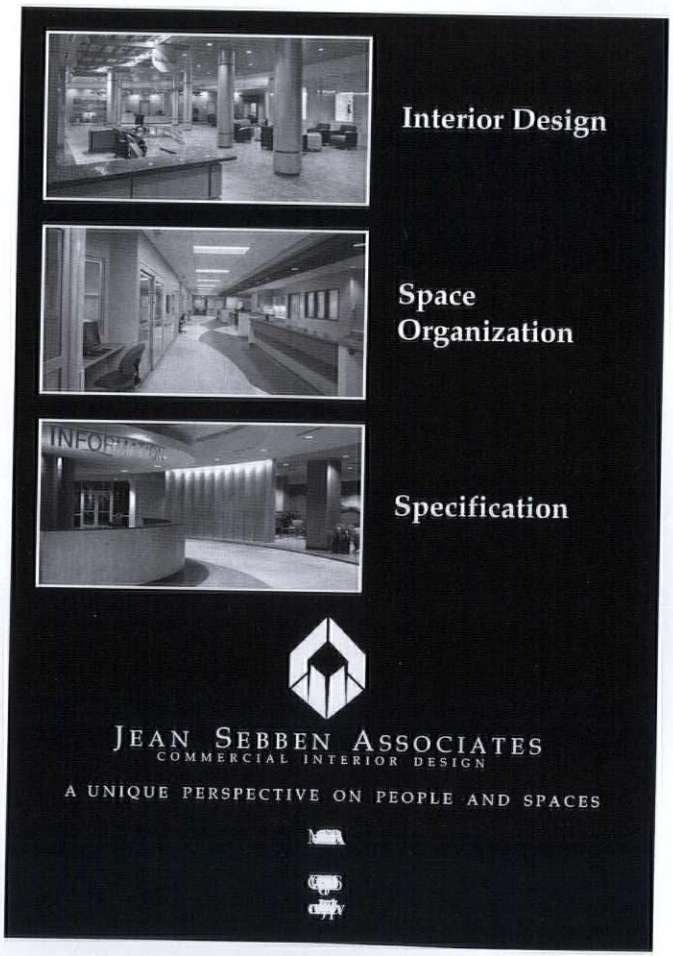

Why an AIA Architect?

Like doctors and lawyers, architects are licensed professionals. The title "architect" may be used only by an individual who possesses a state license to practice architecture. Architects are the only professionals in the construction industry who are ethically bound to represent you: the building owner. Professional qualifications generally include:

- a college degree from an accredited school of architecture, requiring five or more years of professional studies;
- three years of internship under the supervision of licensed architects; and
- passage of nine rigorous examinations.

Only those professionals, who have fulfilled these requirements or other requirements as stipulated by each individual state, legally may call themselves architects and practice architecture in the jurisdiction granting license. Individuals may be registered, or licensed, in more than one state by means of reciprocal licensing agreements among the states.

Get the Real Thing - Look for "AIA"
Look for the "AIA" initials after the name of any architect you consider for your project. AIA architects remain current with professional standards through continuing education and subscribe to a code of ethics and professional conduct that assure clients, the public and colleagues of their dedication to high standards in professional practice.

AIA Colorado Services for Consumers

AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory
The AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory is an annually published, statewide listing of all AIA Colorado members. This directory lists member contact information by local chapter and includes the types of services that each firm offers. This publication can be a valuable asset in one's search for the right architect for a project.

Find An Architect on www.aiacolorado.org
Individuals can complete free searches at www.aiacolorado.org to identify AIA Colorado-firms architects by location, specialty or other search criteria. All firms listed have one or more licensed principal architects who are members of AIA Colorado.

Additionally, AIA provides the complimentary, national online service Architect Finder at http://aia.org/architect_finder/. This allows individuals to search for architectural firms across the country using various criteria.

Architect Colorado Magazine
The primary mission of Architect Colorado is to inform AIA Colorado members about architectural news, trends and developments occurring throughout the state and about work being done by our members in our region and beyond. The publication also serves as an outreach tool to educate the community about the value of architectural excellence and the contributions of AIA Colorado architects.

A subscription to the quarterly published Architect Colorado is available for $30 per year. Single issues are available for $7.50 each (plus tax and S&H). Contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266 for more information or for group sales pricing.

AIA Contract Documents
AIA Colorado is a full distributor of AIA Contract Documents. The documents produced by AIA are the most widely used standard form contracts in the construction industry. Document synopses are available on www.aiacolorado.org, and AIA Contract Documents can be ordered online or by calling 303.446.2266.

Transit-oriented Development: Reshaping the Great American City (Film)
In 2006, the AIA Denver Urban Design Committee produced this film in response to the need to explore the characteristics of successful TODs. The documentary is a 60-minute film that exposes the negative impacts of sprawl in the largest U.S. cities and the promise of TOD as an alternative. Copies of the film are available for $20 each (plus tax and S&H). Contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266 for more information.

How Design Works for You Web site
If individuals never have worked with architects before, they likely have questions: Does the project really require an architect? At what point should a design team become involved? What is it like to work with an AIA architect, and how does one get the most out of the experience? To help answer these questions and other, AIA hosts the complimentary, online resource How Design Works for You at http://howdesignworks.aia.org/. From this Web site, individuals are guided through the five stages of design by downloading video and other tools that describe how the process works.

Publications
A variety of AIA publications and fact sheets are available to the public at no charge. These resources cover a range of topics, from finding and working with an architect to how architects can help manage projects and the design process. Contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266 or visit www.aiacolorado.org to request a current list of these resources.

About AIA Colorado

AIA Colorado represents architects and others statewide and unifies the four local chapters of The American Institute of Architects within Colorado.

AIA Colorado seeks to:
- unite the architects of the state of Colorado in fellowship;
- promote the aesthetic, scientific and business practice of architecture;
- advance architectural standards of continuing education, training and practice; and
- build relationships among clients, the construction industry and architects.

AIA Colorado believes that an important purpose of architecture is to create a vision that improves the built environment. This vision is vital to the advancement of the living standards of our communities and provides a service of ever-increasing value to society.

AIA Colorado provides help in finding an architect, lobbies the Colorado legislature, publishes architectural employment information, offers continuing education programs and sells AIA Contract Documents and other publications. The organization hosts an annual conference and provides support to all the chapters within the state. It is a professional organization for the design profession and is classified as "not-for-profit."

AIA Colorado History

The Colorado Association of Architects was organized in 1890, and the elected officers were Robert S. Roeschlaub, president; Harold W. Baerresen, vice president; Eugene R. Rice, secretary; and Frank E. Edbrooke, treasurer. The same men were re-elected to office at the second annual meeting held Dec. 21, 1891. The main topic of discussion at that event was submitting an application for a charter as a chapter of The American Institute of Architects. The charter was received April 4, 1892, and included the states of Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico. It was not until 1947 that each state had its own chapter.

For engineers, we have remarkably large right brains, too.

THOMPSON ENGINEERING

We know engineers have a reputation for being rather single-minded. But at Thompson Engineering, we're proud of our ability to combine our superior engineering skills with a unique ability to look at the big picture.

When we partner with you, we'll bring our combined 75 years of experience designing the highest quality mechanical and plumbing engineering. But we'll also bring a refreshing approach of focusing on the total project, and we'll be a stickler for budgets and deadlines.

To read some of our well-rounded case studies, visit us at www.Thompson-Eng.com.

AIA Colorado Committees & Task Forces

The following outlines just a portion of the committees and services available to members of AIA Colorado. The AIA Colorado Board of Directors encourages members' active participation in AIA at the local, state and national levels. This involvement means fellowship with peers, furthering one's career and continuing education. Members can volunteer their expertise by joining a committee, sponsoring an intern, submiting an article for use in Architect Colorado, running for a board seat, suggesting a new service or attending the annual design conference. Your participation and feedback are welcomed and necessary for the continued success of this membership body. Many other committees exist at the local chapter level as well. Please refer to the AIA Colorado Web site at www.aiacolorado.org for a complete list of all committees active in each chapter.

AIA Colorado-AGC of Colorado-ACEC of Colorado Design & Construction Coalition
In 1997, AIA Colorado, the Associated General Contractors (AGC) of Colorado, and the American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC) of Colorado sought an agreement to achieve a partnership for the purpose of enhancing the relationships between the three organizations and their members. The board of directors of each organization is committed to developing a detailed understanding of the concerns that confront the members of each organization as they proceed with the design and construction of projects and to analyze carefully the challenges that the three organizations have in accomplishing their goals. Chairpersonship of this committee rotates between the three organizations on annual basis.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado
The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, awards scholarships and grants to architectural students, faculty members, architects and AIA components each spring. Application deadline for these is typically in late February to early March.

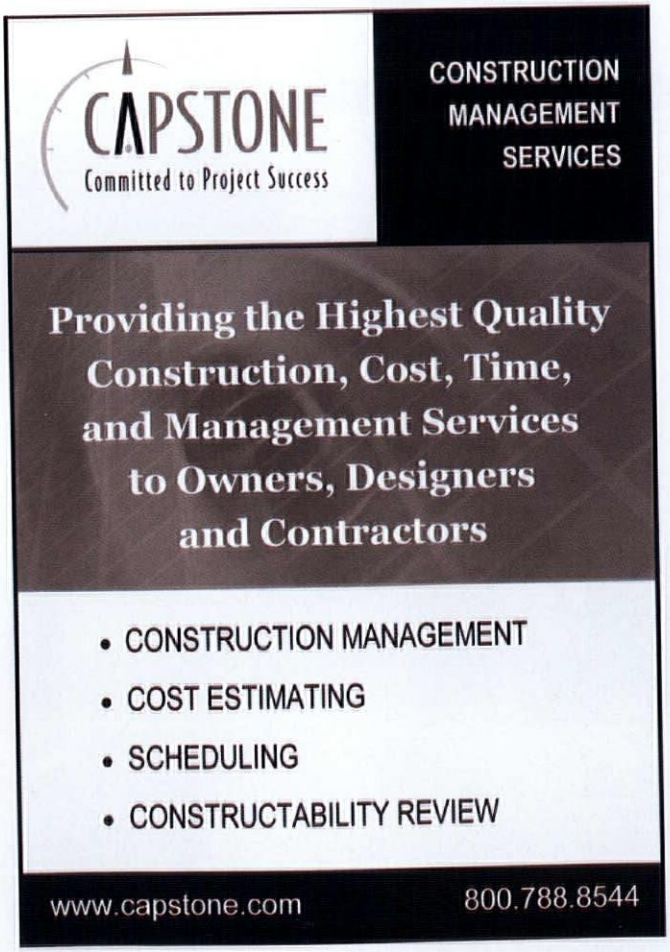

Building Enclosure Council-Colorado
The purpose of the Building Enclosure Council-Colorado is to increase awareness of building envelope design as a critical aspect of the successful construction and performance of buildings and to foster the education of building industry professionals regarding proper design, construction and maintenance of building envelopes with an emphasis on issues related to the Colorado climate. The BEC is intended to be a multi-disciplinary effort with participation open to architects, engineers, contractors and material suppliers interested in building enclosure science. The committee is open to all who want to participate and meets on the first Wednesday of every month. A one-hour program is presented at each meeting to further the committee's mission of education.

AIA Colorado Communication Advisory Board (CAB)
The AIA Colorado CAB serves as the nucleus of strategic communication planning for AIA Colorado and its four local chapters. Members of CAB function as an accessible source of information and as a tool for architectural professionals, supporting personal and professional development. The communication tools that are continuously being enhanced to target all AIA Colorado needs are the Web site, e-newsletter, e-postcards and quarterly design magazine. CAB reports directly to the AIA Colorado board.

AIA Colorado Design Awards Program Committee
The AIA Colorado Design Awards Program Committee seeks to honor works of distinction by AIA Colorado members and to bring the outstanding architectural services provided by members of AIA Colorado to the public's attention. AIA Colorado design award winners are announced during the annual design conference.

Fellows Task Force
The Fellows Task Force was formed in 1992 and assists local chapters in nominating their outstanding members to be considered for election to the AIA College of Fellows. The task force also helps those architects nominated in developing their submissions to the AIA Jury of Fellows.

AIA Colorado Finance Committee
The AIA Colorado Finance Committee is responsible for the financial stability of AIA Colorado. The committee develops long-range financial goals and makes recommendations to the board regarding budgets and other areas of financial planning. Membership dues, the annual design conference, support from sponsors and document sales generate most of the revenue necessary for the operating budget of AIA Colorado.

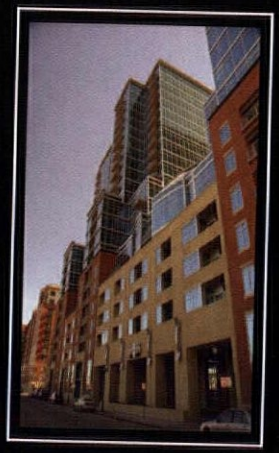

AIA Colorado Government Affairs Committee (GAC)
The AIA Colorado GAC's primary goal is to increase the legislators' awareness of architects, architecture and AIA Colorado. This committee meets on the first Friday of each month at 1 p.m. at the AIA Colorado office to discuss matters relating to the State Board of Examiners of Architects and legislation at the federal and state levels. During the 120-day Colorado legislative session, the AIA Colorado GAC Legislative Affairs Subcommittee meets weekly to review and discuss potential legislation that could affect the profession of architecture. Because AIA Colorado sponsors key legislation infrequently, the state component contracts a lobbyist, Jerry Johnson, to assist AIA Colorado in the monitoring process, as well as providing onsite lobbying at the state capitol.

Intern Development Program (IDP)
IDP continues to gain momentum in Colorado. The IDP coordinator and AIA Colorado staff sent out more than 100 packets last year. The coordinator provides programs at the University of Colorado at both Boulder and Denver as well as to firms interested in the merits of the IDP program. The coordinator also nominates firms for the AIA-National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) IDP Firm of the Year award.

AIA Colorado Membership Committee
The purpose of the AIA Colorado Membership Committee is to direct successful and continuous membership expansion efforts, which are essential toward ensuring that AIA Colorado truly represents the profession.

AIA Colorado Nominating Committee
This committee is composed of at least five AIA Colorado architects, selected on the basis of one representative from each local chapter in Colorado (appointed each year at the August meeting of the board of directors) and chaired by the current president-elect. The AIA Colorado Nominating Committee recommends at least two nominees to run for each officer position on the AIA Colorado Board of Directors.

Professional Development Committee (PCD)
PDC's purpose is to serve as the clearinghouse for information needed by emerging professionals and practitioners during the course of their professional development. This includes communication links to NCARB, Architect Registration Examination (ARE), IDP, American Institute of Architecture Students (AIAS), Young Architects Forum, Fellows Network, University of Colorado College of Architecture and Planning and the Colorado Mentoring Network.

AIA COLORADO COMPONENT INFORMATION

AIA Colorado Design Conference Committee
The AIA Colorado Design Conference Committee is responsible for the planning and execution of the AIA Colorado Annual Design Conference. The conference chair is appointed by the president-elect before the year of the conference to be chaired. Committee members develop the theme for each conference, invite speakers and coordinate the two-and-a-half-day schedule. AIA Colorado member participation and feedback are encouraged.

AIA Colorado Strategic Planning Committee
The AIA Colorado Strategic Planning Committee is responsible for recommending one-, three- and five-year goals for AIA Colorado. This committee reports directly to the AIA Colorado Board of Directors.

AIA Colorado Young Architects Awards Gala (YAAG) Committee
The AIA Colorado YAAG Committee is responsible for the annual programs aimed at recognizing The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, scholarship recipients and numerous other students, interns, mentors and recently licensed professionals. The most prestigious award is the AIA Colorado Young Architect of the Year. Additional award categories include excellence in construction documents, technology innovations, craftsmanship and student portfolios. The program also seeks to recognize significant firm contributions to young professionals through its Mentoring Firm of the Year award.

AIA College of Fellows

AIA bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, Fellowship is the highest honor AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on members with at least 10 years of membership who have made significant contributions to the aesthetic, scientific and practical efficiency of the profession; to the standards of architectural education, training and practice; to the building industry through leadership of AIA and other related professional organizations; to the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment; and to society through significant public service.

Those advanced to Fellowship can use "FAIA" designation after their names in recognition of their contributions in design, education, research or public service.

The following people came into the area from other chapters in the early years and were automatic Fellows when assigned to the AIA Colorado Chapter. (Area: Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico, April 4, 1892).

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado

Since the first $600 scholarship was presented in 1961, The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, has awarded more than $800,000 in scholarships, grants and other prizes to more than 400 students, architects and teachers. The annual awards program exceeds $50,000 from income received through investments and donations.

During the past four decades, individual architects and firms have made substantial contributions to the foundation as memorials. Individuals and organizations allied with the construction industry also have made significant donations in the past. Many donors send a contribution to the fund, instead of flowers, to memorialize a lost loved one, friend or associate. The foundation continually seeks new funds in the way of endowments, donations and memorials from the design community and the AIA Colorado membership at large.

The foundation provides assistance to AIA Colorado and its members so that AIA Colorado can conduct professional education programs accessible to the membership and the design community. Requests for such grants should be submitted to The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, 3320 E. 2nd Ave., Denver, Colo., 80206.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, was born in 1934 out of the devotion of five men to the practice of architecture. On Jan. 23, 1934, Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, announced on behalf of himself and four other men the creation of a special trust fund "to advance the interest of the profession of architecture in the State of Colorado."

The foundation was conceived a decade earlier by the founders of the Allied Architects Association: Robert K. Fuller, FAIA; William E. Fisher, FAIA; George H. Williamson, FAIA; William Bowman, AIA; and Fred Montjoy, AIA. Their vision long had been "to provide an instrument whereby, someday, sufficient income would be realized to be able to award scholarships, grants, prizes, etc. to the betterment of the profession." (All quotes are from the original articles of incorporation.)

The first aim of the foundation was quite modest: the assets were to be "held intact and allowed to grow" until the principal would be large enough to ensure a "good annual return therefrom." The founders hoped that the amount in the fund would serve as a "nucleus" that would increase in value and, now that it formally was established, also attract additional donations. By 1944, however, no new contributions had been made and of the five founding fathers of the fund, only the fund's chairman, Fuller, survived.

On Dec. 18, 1944, the foundation was transferred to the Colorado Chapter, AIA (predecessor of the Colorado State Society of AIA and now AIA Colorado) as a chapter investment fund. Fuller was designated as its permanent trustee. By early 1961, the fund had achieved its first aim "... a good annual return." It then was deemed wise to incorporate as a separate, tax-free entity to be known as the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. On Feb. 16, 1961, the foundation was incorporated as a separate, tax-exempt, non-profit corporation under that name. Its broad purpose, as reported in the December 1961 issue of the Colorado Chapter, AIA, newsletter, The Addenda, was (and remains today) "to advance education in architecture by granting of scholarships, prizes and financial aid to deserving students in architecture and to teachers or architects interested in

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado 2007 Scholarship Winners

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, has been granting annual scholarship awards for the past 46 years. During the past 46 years, architects, faculty members and students alike have returned to school for study or have had a research project funded with assistance received from The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado.

research projects directly related to and of value to the architectural profession."

At its November 1961 meeting at the old Boulder Country Club, the Colorado Chapter, AIA, awarded the $600 William E. Fisher Memorial Scholarship to James E. Koentop, a fifth-year architectural engineering student at the University of Colorado. This was the first scholarship awarded by the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. It had taken only 27 years for the five founders' original dream (to be able to make such awards for the betterment of the profession) to come true.

Fuller died in 1966, and the Colorado Chapter, AIA, asked his son, Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA, to assume the responsibility of the position of permanent member of the board of trustees. Upon the death of Kenneth in 1998, Robert K. Fuller II, AIA, became the third permanent member of the board.

In 1969 the AIA in Colorado was restructured into a state society with two chapters (now four), and the fund's name was legally changed to the Educational Fund, Colorado Society of Architects, AIA. In 2001 the trustees reincorporated the fund with updated articles and bylaws and a new name that reflected the fund's evolution: The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado. Today the board of trustees of The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, consists of the following five members: the current president of AIA Colorado is the foundation president; the current president-elect of AIA Colorado is the vice president; Robert K. Fuller II, AIA, is the permanent secretary/treasurer; and the past president and executive director of AIA Colorado serve as trustees.

The following is a listing of the Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado Scholarships:

Anniversary Scholarship - $1,500 award for third- or fourth-year study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado (Boulder)

AIA Continuing Education System: Survival Guide

Program Basics

What is AIA CES?

It is a continuing education system (CES) developed by AIA to emphasize learning and record participation in professional learning activities. AIA CES enables architects to keep current, master new knowledge and skills, plan for the future and responsibly meet the role society entrusts to a professional. The program also allows members to fulfill a requirement for AIA membership and meet any state mandatory continuing education requirement. In this role, the program has the potential to be a primary force in the improvement and revitalization of the profession.

What is my annual learning unit (LU) requirement?

All active AIA members must successfully complete 18 learning unit (LU) hours each year, with at least eight of the 18 LU hours relating to health, safety and welfare (HSW).

A member who fails to meet the annual requirement will be given a one-year grace period. Any credit earned in the following year will apply toward the deficit. During the first nine months of the grace period, members are able to report retroactively any activities that were completed in the previous year.

A member who exceeds the annual requirement may carry up to 18 LU hours (including eight hours of HSW) over to the next year. Carryover credit can be used for one year only; it is not cumulative. Only the number of credits needed to fulfill the annual requirement for the following year may be carried over. Extra credit may not be carried past the one-year limit. (NOTE: Most state licensing boards do not allow carryover and deficit credit. States have strict continuing education timeframes, and credits must be earned within them.)

What is an LU?

AIA records continuing education credit in LU hours. A one-LU hour activity is equal to one contact hour. An LU hour is not a CEU. One-tenth of a CEU (0.1) is equal to one contact hour, which is equal to one LU hour. In other words, one CEU is equal to 10 contact hours or 10 LU hours.

How does AIA CES work?

Members can earn LU hours by attending programs offered by AIA CES registered providers or through self-reporting independent activities.

What is an AIA CES Registered Provider Program?

AIA has developed a network of more than 2,500 educational providers made up of AIA components, chapters, affiliate organizations, firms, manufacturers, universities, non-profit organizations and government agencies. These educational providers offer more than 25,000 programs each year.

Programs offered by AIA CES providers are filed with AIA CES Records in Oklahoma. Within 14 days of a program's conclusion, AIA CES providers verify and report the program attendees to AIA CES Records. For non-AIA members, the AIA CES provider will provide a certificate of completion upon request. The complete activities then are posted on AIA members' transcripts. Online transcripts are available at www.aia.org/conted/.

What are Self-Reported Activities?
AIA members must indicate whether the activities they are reporting are self-designed or structured self-reported programs.

What are Self-Designed Activities?
This type of learning activity is organized by the member specifically to meet one's individual needs. A self-designed activity frequently involves more than one type of medium or method, such as research, reading, interviewing subject experts, listening to audiotapes and/or viewing videos. To determine what qualifies for self-reporting, answer the following questions:
1. Is this a planned learning activity?
2. Is this activity intended to be educational or operational?
3. Are you acquiring new knowledge, or are you sharing your knowledge with others?
4. How will you apply this new knowledge to your practice?

This method is not acceptable for HSW credit. Some state licensing boards will not accept this type of reporting for mandatory continuing education (MCE) requirements. (Recommended minimum of three hours.)

Structured Self-Reported Program
This is a structured activity offered by an organized, third-party, non-CES provider. Documentation of attendance/participation usually will be required as a supplement when reporting this activity to meet a state licensure requirement. For members who self-report a structured activity, AIA is not able to assist in acquiring any support documentation that may be required by a state licensing board MCE audit.

To be eligible for credit, self-reported activities must be planned, educational activities that provide new knowledge that can be applied toward the practice of architecture.

How do I Submit Self-Reported Activities?
AIA members can self-report activities in two ways:
1. Members can complete the AIA CES Self-Report Form and submit it to AIA CES Records at the University of Oklahoma. To obtain form contact AIA CES Records at 800.605.8229.
2. Members can submit self-reported activities online at www.aia.org/conted. Log into the CES Transcript Login, located on the right-hand side, by providing your membership number. AIA CES Self-Report Forms can be accessed through the transcript page. Be sure to specify which type of learning activity you are reporting so that the data can be entered accurately into your transcript. Members calculate LU hours for self-reported activities by reporting the number of hours spent in architecture-related learning—think in terms of billable hours applied to learning.

Is there a limit to the number of credits that I can self-report in one year?
No. You can self-report as many structured and self-designed activities as you like. Remember, only credits reported in the appropriate method will be applied to your transcript. Follow the procedures outlined in the above paragraphs. Members are advised to check with state licensing boards as certain states will not accept self-reported continuing education as a viable means of education for license renewal.

Health, Safety and Welfare (HSW)

How Does HSW Tie into CES?
AIA requires members to earn eight of the basic LU hour requirements in the area of HSW. The percentage of HSW content in any HSW-related activity must be a minimum of 75 percent to qualify a program or educational event for HSW credit. This accomplishes three goals:
1. To ensure that HSW-related programs have a real relevance to AIA members.
2. To eliminate any question of whether the content of a program was actually HSW-related.
3. To protect AIA members with state MCE requirements.

Can I Self-Report HSW Hours?
Yes, but with restrictions. You may self-report any structured activity that is HSW-related and receive HSW credit for it. In other words, the activity must be developed and presented to you by a third-party organization. You cannot receive HSW credit for any self-designed activity. For example, even though code research is HSW in nature, if it is a self-designed activity, AIA does not allow HSW credit for it. This policy was adopted to ensure quality control guidelines are enforced and to comply with state licensing board requirements.

Can I Receive HSW Hours from Online and Magazine Education Classes and Workshops? (i.e., AIA e-Classroom, Architectural Record, etc.)
Yes. You can obtain HSW hours from any approved course, including online and magazine courses.

Is There a Limit to How Many Credits I Can Receive by Taking Online and Magazine Courses?
Yes, but only from certain publications. There are no limits on the amount of credits that members may obtain for online and magazine courses throughout the year except for Architectural Record courses. The maximum amount of credits a member may obtain for Architectural Record courses in one year is eight credits. The eight credits may be HSW hours or regular LUs.

Am I Supposed to Add my LU Hours and HSW Hours Together to Meet Requirements?
No. The HSW column on your transcript simply shows how many of your total LU hours are HSW-related. The annual requirement is 18 LU hours, of which eight must be HSW-related. Thus, if you earn eight hours of credit from an HSW-related activity, you will need only 10 more hours (of either HSW-related or non-HSW-related activity) to meet your requirement. Eight hours is the minimum requirement for HSW credit, but that number may be exceeded.

What Is the Relation Between HSW and State MCE?
Both AIA and state licensing boards base their programs on the contact hour. A majority of states require eight contact hours of HSW for their MCE. (Exceptions are Kansas, which has no HSW requirement, and Alabama, Louisiana, Minnesota, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Vermont and West Virginia, which each require 12 HSW contact hours.) The AIA CES program requires eight contact hours of HSW from a structured provider. Some states allow some forms of self-reporting. Due to the quality assurance issues posed by the states, AIA does not accept self-designed activities for HSW credit.

CAUTION: For members who self-report structured activities for HSW credit, it has become very important that they clearly report all HSW programs and activities separately, ensuring that they are clearly identified. Failure to do so could result in the loss of license because of noncompliance with state MCE requirements.

How are Transcript Records Kept and How May They be Accessed?
Individual transcript records are updated daily on www.aia.org. Anyone with an active AIA membership number can access a transcript online. To access your individual transcript, visit www.aia.org/conted. Enter your member number in the space provided and click the "Get Transcript" button. You then may print out an unofficial copy of your CES transcript.

Official CES transcripts also are available upon request. A hard copy of the transcript can be faxed or mailed to a member for a fee of $10 per copy. You may make your request in writing, by phone or by fax to:

Membership

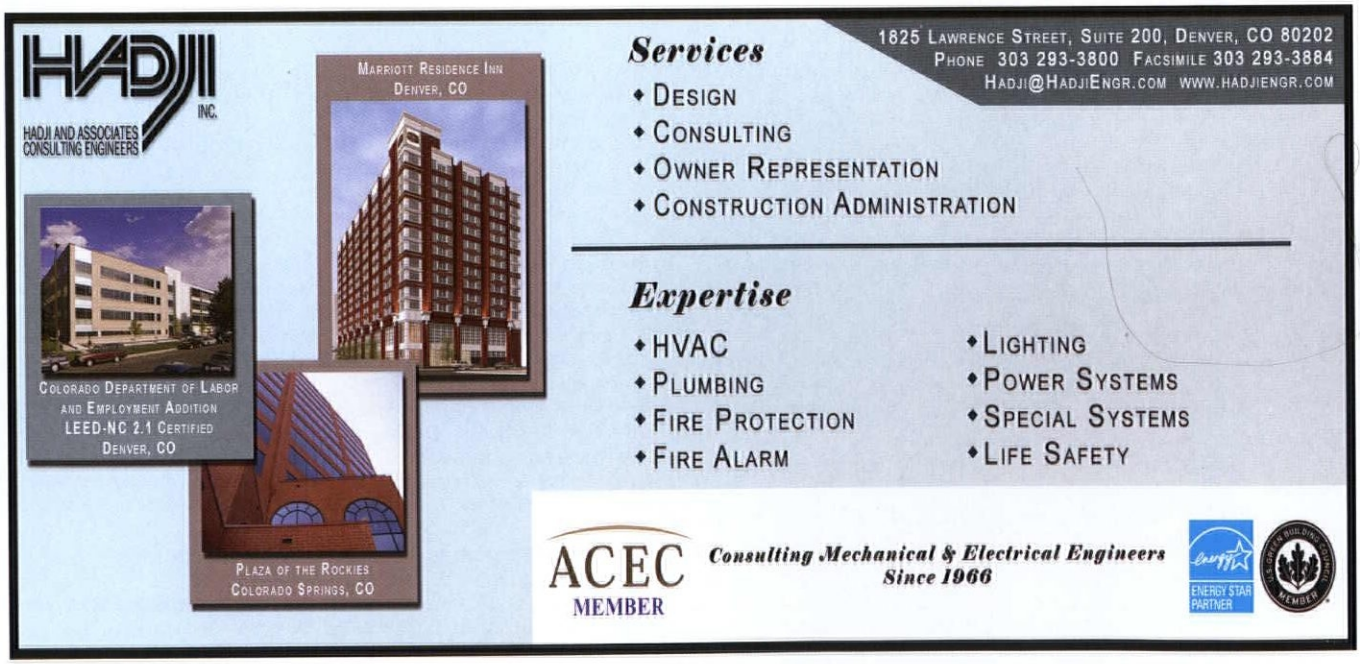

AIA is a three-tiered organization with five basic levels of membership. These levels include AIA, Emeritus AIA and Associate AIA at the national, state and local levels and Professional Affiliate (PA) and Student Affiliate (SA) membership categories at the state and local levels. Full descriptions of all membership levels and benefits can be found online at www.aiacolorado.org.

Membership Categories
AIA (licensed architects) – A member currently licensed to practice architecture in the United States.

Emeritus – An AIA member who is fully retired.

Associate AIA – A member unlicensed to practice architecture in the United States but who meets one of the following conditions:
• is participating in career responsibilities recognized by licensing authorities as constituting credit toward licensure (intern);
• is under the supervision of an architect in a professional or technical capacity;
• is a faculty member in a university program in architecture; or
• is licensed in another country but not the United States.

Professional Affiliate (state and local levels only) – A member unlicensed to practice architecture. Individuals may become professional affiliate members if they have established professional reputations and are registered to practice their professions where such requirements exist or are employed outside architectural practice but involved in positions related to the field of architecture.

Student Affiliate (state and local levels only) - Any undergraduate or postgraduate student enrolled in architectural design or construction-related programs in Colorado.

Membership Benefits
The following list highlights the general benefits all members receive from AIA:

Membership Benefits from AIA Colorado and Local Chapters—AIA, Emeritus AIA, Associate AIA, PA and SA
• Invitations to attend state and local chapter events for free or at the discounted, member price. These events include:
  • AIA Colorado Annual Design Conference
  • AIA Colorado Practice Management Symposium (a seminar for professionals related to the field of architecture and that teaches practical tools relating to business, accounting, human resources, marketing, business development and leadership for use in an architecture firm)
  • All design award galas
  • Young Architects Awards Gala
  • AIA Denver & Design Build Institute of America, Rocky Mountain Chapter, Design-Build Conference
  • Architect Registration Exam (ARE) classes and continuing education system opportunities
  • Breakfast seminar lecture series
  • Project tours
  • Monthly gallery exhibits
  • Local chapter functions and networking events (i.e., continuing education system classes, happy hours and golf tournaments)

• A complimentary subscription to Architect Colorado, AIA Colorado's quarterly, award-winning design magazine

• Access to the AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory, a resource guide in which member contact information is automatically included, and members receive a free copy of and gain strong exposure to members of the architecture industry as well as the general public

• Receipt of AIA Colorado and local chapter communication, including:
  • AIA Colorado eNews (a biweekly, HTML e-newsletter)
  • ePostcards (periodic e-mail announcements)
  • Mailings related to AIA Colorado and local chapter events (i.e., seminars, networking functions and legislative receptions)
  • AIA Web site calendar (members can add events to the online calendar free of charge)

• Discounts on the following:
  • AIA Contract Documents - a 30 percent discount
  • AIA Colorado Classifieds - a 50 percent discount
  • Resume postings in the AIA Colorado Resume Book (accessed by firms all over Colorado)
  • Advertising in AIA Colorado communication vehicles
  • ARE Workshops and exam study materials from the resource library

• Government affairs activity, including:
  • Congressional Lobbying to protect architects' interests
  • Participation on the AIA Colorado Government Affairs Committee (GAC) and Architects of Colorado Political Action Committee (ARCpac). GAC and ARCpac advocate the interests of the architecture profession to the State of Colorado and regional governments while supporting local governmental efforts

• Professional development opportunities

• Special programs and resources for students, including the mentorship program and Intern Development Program support services

National Membership Benefits from AIA—
AIA, Emeritus AIA and Associate AIA
• Access to the members' section of www.aia.org

• Discounts on educational programs

• AIA e-classroom (courses for continuing education system credits)

• Free access to Emerging Professional's Companion Resource Center

• AIA government affairs activities (AIA provides the voice for the architectural professional that reaches Capitol Hill, state legislatures and city councils)

• Complimentary subscriptions to the following publications and resources:
  • The Angle (biweekly e-newsletter providing news and analysis on Capitol Hill, government agencies and state/local activity)
  • Architectural Record
  • AIAarchitect (weekly newsletter)

• AIA Library & Archives (online catalog portal to request loan of library books and request specialized research and customized slide shows)

• Knowledge Communities

• AIA Trust
• Quality insurance, financial benefits and legal services
• AIA Advantage
  • Benefit programs, savings and discounts for members and their practices and families
  • AIA Media Relations Support Center
  • Client-referral service via the AIA database

Steps to Become a Member
1. Determine the appropriate membership category (AIA Colorado staff can help).
2. Contact the AIA Colorado office to obtain a membership application or download an application from www.aiacolorado.org.
3. Submit a membership application to AIA Colorado via fax or mail. Once AIA Colorado receives the application, the membership is activated. However, it may take a few weeks to process an application after which time a new member packet will be sent.

For more information about membership, contact:
Membership Services Manager; AIA Colorado

Benefits and Services Descriptions

AIA Document and Publication Sales
AIA Colorado is a full-service distributor of AIA Contract Documents. Each AIA Colorado member receives a 30 percent discount on all copyright-protected AIA Contract Documents and a member price on many books published by AIA. AIA Colorado's document inventory is kept well stocked to fill orders; however, advance notice is requested so that inventory can be replaced and documents are available at all times. A limited number of books, such as CADD Layering Guidelines, also are kept in stock. Order forms can be faxed or mailed to AIA Colorado and should be accompanied by a check or credit card payment. Orders are processed on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Document orders also may be picked up at the AIA Colorado office during regular office business hours.

AIA Colorado Classifieds
AIA Colorado Classifieds is a unique service dedicated to architectural employment of all types, space availabilities and services that benefit the industry. The classifieds list is updated weekly and includes various vacant positions, making it an excellent and reliable resource for those seeking employment or employees. Classifieds can be viewed online at www.aiacolorado.org or from a hard copy requested from the AIA Colorado office.

AIA Colorado Resume Book
AIA Colorado maintains a book of resumes for potential employers. Hiring firms may visit the AIA Colorado office to review the book or call and request matching resumes to be faxed. There is no charge for members to receive up to 10 copies of resumes; non-members are charged $15 plus $1 (S&H) per resume. Individuals may leave their resumes on file at the AIA Colorado office for a period of four months. Members pay a fee of $20 to offset any faxing, copying and mailing fees that accrue through the four-month period; non-members pay a fee of $30.

Firm Profile & Membership Directory
The AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory is an annual statewide listing of all AIA Colorado members. The directory also includes many resources for the general public and those who procure architectural services.

Firm of the Year

Objective: To recognize a firm that has contributed to the profession and that has set an example both in design and leadership in the state. This should be a firm that best represents the practice of architecture.

Eligibility: Any firm that has provided architectural services in Colorado for more than 10 years. Any firm whose principal, or principal(s) are members of AIA Colorado. Firms that have a main or founding office within the state of Colorado.

Nominations: Must come from outside of the firm and include a statement indicating why the firm should be selected, including listing projects of note and any other outstanding qualifications.

Jury

AIA Colorado Board of Directors judges the nominations and makes the award selection at a regularly scheduled board meeting. Previous awardees include:

1991 Hoover Berg Desmond
1992 Klipp Colussy Jenks DuBois

AIA Denver Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the organization, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership in areas of greatest interest to the profession and the community. AIA Denver members are encouraged to become active in these committees.

Annual Awards Committee
The Annual Awards Committee is organized to design, plan and implement the AIA Denver Design Awards Gala. This annual event recognizes and celebrates outstanding architectural achievements within the Denver community. The event is held each fall, and the committee actively works on developing the program's itinerary as well as selecting nationally recognized keynote speakers.

Annual Golf Tournament Committee
The Annual Golf Tournament Committee organizes this summer event to provide a networking opportunity for architects and industry sponsors to socialize in a fun tournament atmosphere. In addition to the networking opportunities of the tournament, this also serves as one of AIA Denver's largest fundraising venues.

AIA Denver Committees (cont'd)

Architectural Review Exams (ARE) Committee
The ARE Committee organizes effective review sessions for ARE candidates. Various review topics are presented by professionals at each meeting. Mock examinations and study guides are distributed to all participants of the sessions. The goal of the ARE Committee is to make the sessions effective, interesting and affordable for the 50 candidates that enroll each year in the program. Review programs are held on Thursday evenings and Saturdays throughout March and April.

Committee on the Environment (COTE)
COTE, as its motto states, is committed to "bridging the gap—high performance and high design" by promoting education about the performance of buildings to architects, design professionals and other groups involved with sustainability.

Design-Build Committee
The Design-Build Committee provides a forum for owners, architects, engineers and contractors to share ways to provide better project delivery methods. Today, owners are demanding more and more for a single source of responsibility for their projects. There are even greater opportunities awaiting architects and contractors. Working together and opening the door to better understanding between each other, designers and builders can deliver positive results for clients. The Design-Build Committee invites members to join the committee and lead the way to better design-build.

Fellows Nominating Committee
The Fellows Nominating Committee is charged with identifying and nominating candidates who are deserving of advancement to the College of Fellows and would receive serious consideration for advancement to Fellowship by the national AIA Jury of Fellows. This committee facilitates an active approach to identifying worthy candidates for current and future consideration and conducting an open, credible and understandable nomination process.

Historic Preservation Committee
The Historic Preservation Committee is an interdisciplinary membership organization dedicated to educate, investigate, record and support historic preservation. Primary tasks of the committee are to increase public awareness, enhance professional development, advocate community involvement and recognize the contributions of people involved in preservation of the built environment and early pioneers involved in the development of the Denver and Colorado.

Housing Committee
The Housing Committee is a forum for architects who specialize in designing residential building types, such as single-family, multi-family and lofts. The committee follows current issues that address codes, government regulations, evolving technology and current housing trends. The committee's goals are to have a better understanding of the Fair Housing Act and its relationship to Title VII of Colorado law, to offer solutions to growth issues and to educate developers and the general public about good residential design.

Public Affairs Committee
The Public Affairs Committee's task is two-fold. While the committee's focus is to improve the local chapter's communication and interaction with local government, the committee also will focus on how that interaction best can be promoted via public relations through OpEd articles, press releases and other vehicles of public communication.

Membership Committee
The Membership Committee is organized to increase membership participation and champion AIA benefits to current members. Committee programs provide the vast array of national, state and local benefits to potential members, including continuing education, the Intern Development Program and discounts on AIA Contract Documents.

Member Forums Committee
The Member Forums Committee was developed to produce monthly programs about timely issues relating to architecture. These programs are offered at no cost to members.

STOPP Task Force
The STOPP (Citizens to Streamline Our Permitting Process) Task Force's goal is to stop unnecessary delays in the permitting process by introducing a streamlined approach with the objective of facilitating and encouraging new growth, not stymieing and thwarting responsible construction.

Urban Design Committee
The Urban Design Committee is focused on growing into the role of a "community resource" of expertise and assistance in the development of designs involving local and regional urban design issues. The group also plays an educational role, developing and presenting workshops, design charrettes and presentations on current urban design issues. There are many opportunities for participation in this committee and the rewards are ultimately a better city in which to work and live.

Women in Design (WiD)
WiD strives to expand the gender diversity of the design professions to mirror the community that is served and to promote awareness of the contributions of women design professionals. WiD pursues these strategies for gender diversity through networking, outreach and professional development.

AIA Colorado North Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the organization, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership in areas of greatest interest to the profession and the community. AIA Colorado North members are encouraged to become active in these committees.

AIA150 Committee
This committee serves as the link between the AIA150 national anniversary initiatives and the AIA Colorado North Board of Directors.

Architectural Registration Exams (ARE) Materials Library Committee
This committee manages the ARE Materials Library, which is available at no charge to all AIA Colorado North members. The AIA Colorado North Board of Directors procures reviews and updates the materials accordingly.

Design Awards Committee
The Design Awards Committee program seeks to honor works of distinction by members and to bring to public attention the outstanding architectural services provided AIA Colorado North members. The awards are presented annually at the fall awards gala.

AIA COLORADO NORTH >

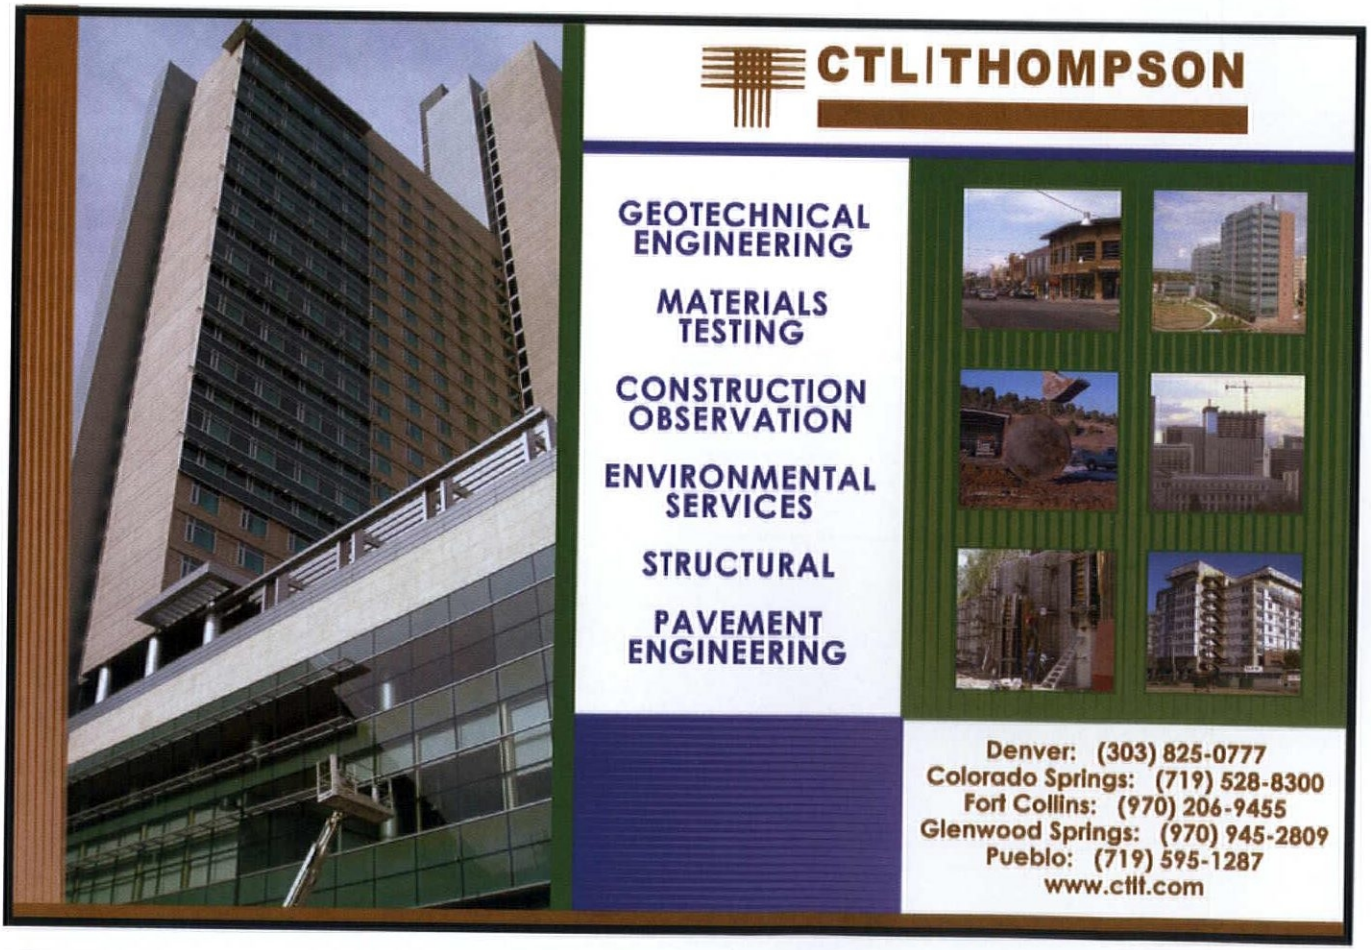

AIA Colorado North Committees (cont'd)

Annual Golf Tournament Committee
The Annual Golf Tournament Committee organizes this summer event that allows architects and industry sponsors to meet and socialize in a fun tournament atmosphere. In addition to the networking opportunities of the tournament, this also serves as one of the AIA Colorado North's largest fundraising venues.

Membership Committee
Successful and continuous membership retention and expansion efforts are essential to ensure that AIA Colorado North truly represents the profession. Members are invited to recruit a friend and bring them to a meeting or chapter activity to get them involved in AIA Colorado North.

Public Affairs Committee
The Public Affairs Committee's task is two-fold. While the committee's focus is to improve the local chapter's communication and interaction with local government, the committee also will focus on how that interaction best can be promoted via public relations through OpEd articles, press releases and other vehicles of public communication.

Web Site Committee
This committee oversees the chapter calendar and meets on the third Tuesday of each month to discuss upcoming events within the chapter, including conferences, lectures, happy hours and other pertinent community events. This information is updated monthly on the AIA Colorado Web site.

AIA Colorado South Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the organization, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership in areas of greatest interest to the profession and the community. AIA Colorado South members are encouraged to become active in these committees.

AIA150 Committee
This committee serves as the link between the AIA150 national anniversary initiatives and the AIA Colorado South Board of Directors.

Associates Committee
This committee engages all AIA Colorado South associate members in educational and social events. It makes learning materials available for the Architectural Review Exams, as well as facilitating scholarship opportunities.

AIA Colorado South Committees (cont'd)

Design Awards Program Committee
The Design Awards Program Committee honors works of distinction by AIA Colorado South members and brings public attention to the outstanding architectural services provided by the chapter's members. Design award winners are announced during the annual holiday gala.

Annual Gala Committee
The Annual Gala Committee works to design, plan and implement the annual holiday gala. This event recognizes and celebrates outstanding architectural achievements within the Colorado Springs community. The event is held in December, and the committee actively works on the gala's theme, venue and presentation.

Historic Preservation Committee
The Historic Preservation Committee is an interdisciplinary membership organization dedicated to educate, investigate, record and support historic preservation. Primary tasks of the committee are to increase public awareness, enhance professional development, advocate community involvement and recognize the contributions of people involved in preservation of the built environment and early pioneers involved in the development of the AIA Colorado South's service area.

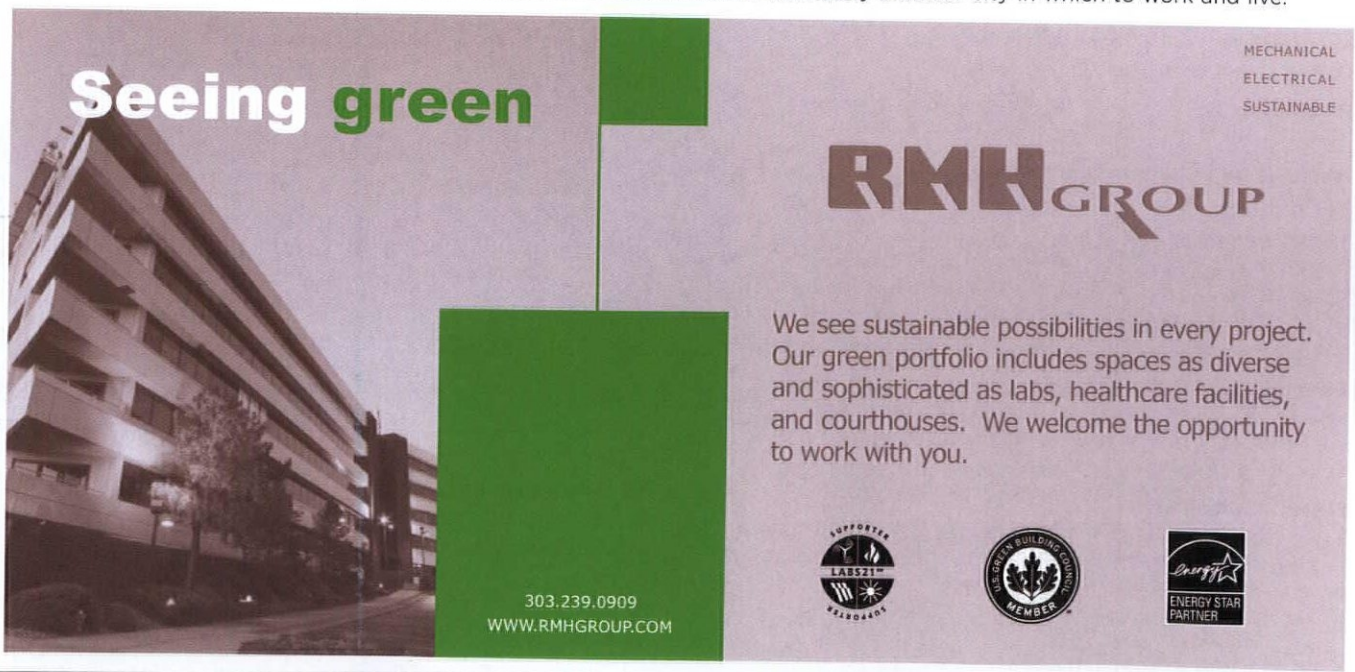

Membership Committee
The Membership Committee works to increase membership participation and champion AIA benefits to current members. Committee programs provide the vast array of national, state and local benefits, such as continuing education, the Intern Development Program and discounts on AIA Contract Documents.

Programs Committee
This committee seeks opportunities to bring lectures, tours, networking receptions and educational events to the chapter in order for members to maintain their AIA continuing education requirements and as a way to stimulate learning, networking and growth in the chapter.

Public Affairs Committee
The Public Affairs Committee's task is two-fold. While the committee's focus is to improve the local chapter's communication and interaction with local government, the committee also will focus on how that interaction best can be promoted via public relations through OpEd articles, press releases and other vehicles of public communication.

Sustainability Committee
This committee is combined with the Colorado Springs Downtown Partnership and works to educate AIA Colorado South members and downtown businesses about sustainable practices as part of the !magine Downtown! effort.

Urban Design Committee
The Urban Design Committee is focused on growing into the role of a "community resource" of expertise and assistance in the development of designs involving local and regional urban design issues. The group also plays an educational role, developing and presenting workshops, design charrettes and presentations on current urban design issues. There are many opportunities for participation in this committee, and the rewards are ultimately a better city in which to work and live.

AIA Colorado West Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the organization, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership in areas of greatest interest to the profession and the community. AIA Colorado West members are encouraged to become active in these committees.

AIA150 Committee
This committee serves as the link between the AIA150 national anniversary initiatives and the chapter's board of directors.

Design Awards Committee
The awards program honors works of distinction by members and brings to public attention the outstanding architectural services provided members. The awards are presented annually at the spring awards gala.

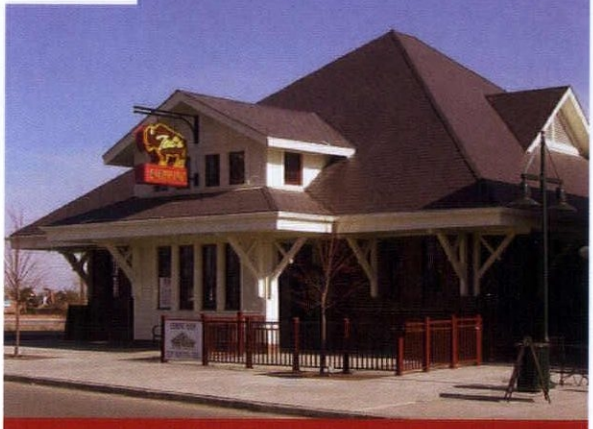

Membership Committee
The Membership Committee is organized to increase membership participation and champion AIA benefits to current members. Committee programs provide the vast array of national, state and local benefits to potential members, including continuing education, the Intern Development Program and discounts on AIA Contract Documents.

Programs Committee
This committee seeks opportunities to bring lectures, tours, networking receptions and educational events to the chapter in order for members to maintain their AIA continuing education requirements and as a way to stimulate learning, networking and growth in the chapter.

Public Affairs Committee
This committee's task is two-fold. While the committee's focus is to improve the local chapter's communication and interaction with local government, the committee also will focus on how that interaction best can be promoted via public relations through OpEd articles, press releases and other vehicles of public communication.

A new star in the tile constellation.

Astronomers know that ANTARES is one of the brightest stars in the night sky, part of the constellation Scorpius, and best seen at the end of May every year.

CAPCO knows that ANTARES is one of the brightest new tile designs ever discovered, part of the superb collection from Imola Ceramica of Italy — and best seen at our CAPCO showrooms, year round. That's scientific fact.

CAPCO — always the leading edge in modern tile breakthroughs.
